Hello everyone at Kerris Havanese

I am bored, bored, bored. It is raining again & I have run out of things to do. So far today I have:

Emptied my toy box & played with all my toys.
Played tug-o-wars with Shadow & Scramble.
(Must let Mum know that we will need a new pink elephant...somehow several of Pinky's legs sort of fell off)

I have inspected the children's bedrooms & tidied up a few socks but Mum took them off me for some reason.

I've been outside to find a twig to play with but it was too wet so I came back inside & chased Merlin until he got grumpy & climbed up onto the top of the chair where I couldn't reach him.

I've tried to get myself a new cardboard roll to chew but Mum discovered me in the toilet unwrapping the toilet paper. She was ever so slightly cross with me so I thought perhaps I'd better try to please her by writing a letter to you all.

It is raining so hard that Mum says we can't even go for a walk.

Perhaps I could start to plan my 1st birthday party. I have discovered that on your "Birth-Day" you can have a party. This means you get to eat special yummy food & people give you stuff that is wrapped up in paper. I am a bit of an expert on these birthday parties now because Poppy (she is the oldest girl) had her 21st birthday last month & then Ed (the boy) had his 18th birthday. Shadow says some birthday's are more important than others & your 1st birthday is as important as the 18th & 21st. Yippee!! I am going to ask for lots of new toys - Shadow & Scramble can have my old ones, they keep taking them anyway & Pinky is now leg less. I am going to ask Mum to make some of the yummy food in the booklet that Grandma Kerry sent her & I want a birthday cake with burning sticks on top....Oh Shadow has just said I'm only allowed 1 burning stick because I am only turning 1 year old. Perhaps I will just ignore that small detail because the burning sticks look so pretty when you have lots like Poppy & Ed did.

Oh yah Mum has just said that she is going to take me down to the pet shop to buy me a "raincoat" so we can go for a walk. "There has been so much rain it is getting ridiculous" & she says it is fun to walk in the rain but I need my own raincoat so I don't get too wet & cold.

....So I have returned from my walk. Mum is right, it is quite fun to walk in the rain & I didn't mind wearing my raincoat. Mum had a raincoat as well & something called "Wellies" on her feet. I had lots of fun splashing thru the little rivers of water on the footpath & I got quite wet, cos my tummy is sort of close to the ground:-) but my raincoat did keep me warm & dry on top.

I'm not so bored now in fact I think after all that busy-ness I need to curl up in my basket & have a little sleep.

Lots of love

Kipper
